Tidva

One family. Two homes.

SHARED PARENTING APP FOR ANDROID

Calm, shared organisation for separated parents

Tidva gives two parents, and up to four trusted guardians, one practical place for everyday family life: handovers, messages, holiday requests, child updates, expenses and records. It is designed to keep communication clear and neutral, and it is not court-focused.

Shared calendar

Handovers, school events and appointments in one place.

Holiday requests

Ask for time away and approve dates together.

Family messaging

Direct, practical messages between family members.

Children and tasks

Notes, routines, school details, updates and responsibilities.

Expenses and receipts

Log purchases for each child, with receipts.

Documents and contacts

Important records and contacts where both homes can find them.

How it works

- Free to download from Google Play.
- The family owner makes a one-time £2.99 Family Setup Unlock. There is no subscription.
- The co-parent and up to 4 trusted guardians then join free by invite code.
- Only approved family members can see family information.

Scan for Google Play

tidva.com

Please read: Tidva is not right for every family

Tidva is a coordination tool. It is not supervised contact, mediation, legal advice or an emergency service. It is not suitable where contact with the other parent is unsafe, or restricted by a court order or professional advice. Please follow court orders and safeguarding advice.

Help is available: in an emergency call 999. National Domestic Abuse Helpline (free, 24 hours): 0808 2000 247. Men's Advice Line: 0808 801 0327. More at tidva.com/safety.html

For mediators, charities and contact centres: tidva.com/professionals.html | support@tidva.com. Tidva is independent and is not approved, accredited or endorsed by any professional body or organisation.